

Philadelphia Quartet To Tell Experiences

An informal panel discussion during the well-known Philadelphia String Quartet is scheduled for the Forum Assembly Thursday 10 a.m. in the delong Concert Hall at Brigham Young University. The Quartet will also present a concert that same evening at 8:15 in the delong Concert Hall. Tickets for the concert are available at the Fine Arts Ticket Office. The discussion will center around the members' lives as concert artists, their professional experiences and extensive traveling during their tours through United States, Europe and South America.

The resident ensemble at University of Pennsylvania from 1961-65, they were named the official quartet for the Philadelphia Museum of Art in 1965. During past summers they have been Quartet-In-Residence at The Allegheny Music Festival, National Music Camp at Interlochen, Michigan and University of Rhode Island Summer Workshop where they performed, taught and coached Chamber Music.

In the 1963-64 season, the Quartet performed an epic six concert Beethoven-Dartok-Schubert cycle in Carnegie Hall. The New York Times critic said of the performance, "expert and highly dedicated performances . . . these four musicians play from depth."

Hiker's Body Recovered On Mt. McKinley

BYU graduate Steve Taylor was one of three persons found dead Saturday after being trapped on Mt. McKinley for nine days of stormy weather. Four other members of the party are listed as missing.

Taylor, age 22, graduated from BYU in May with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Physics. His body had been made to begin work in the field of his major this fall.

Steve was born in Portland, Ore., attended Montour High School at McKees Rocks, Pa. His family is now living in Mt. Prospect, Illinois.

While at BYU he was a member of the Rescue Squad of the BYU Alpine Club. He was considered to be an expert mountain climber. While attending school he received special training in ice and snow climbing at Trump Haven Ski Resort. In addition to his mountain climbing activities he was also associated with AFROTCC.

BYU Wrestler Wins Gold Medal

Former BYU wrestling star Mike Young won the gold medal in the heavyweight class in the wrestling finals at the Pan-American Games in Winnipeg, Canada, last week.

Young defeated Roberto Walley of Mexico in the final match by pinning the United States' best wrestler to win gold medals to 66. Canada won the US with four gold medals.

A three-time Western Athletic Conference champion, Young graduated from the BYU in 1966 and was coached by Fred Davis last year in coaching the Cougar wrestling team to first place in the WAC.

SUMMER EDITION

Vol. 19, No. 174

office, and admission is free with an activity card or faculty card. Passes must be obtained at the Wilkinson Center main desk.

Watermelon Bust Follows Hike Saturday

Following Saturday's hike to Mt. Timpanogos, a free watermelon bust will be offered to students and faculty at 5:30 p.m. on the field south of the Smith Fieldhouse.

Tickets must be picked up prior to the event by presenting an activity card or faculty card at the main desk of the Wilkinson Center. Students are encouraged to wear casual school attire to the event, and not cat-calls or shorts.

Grad. Announcements

Graduation Announcements are available for pick-up at the Information Desk of the Wilkinson Center.

Asians Believe US A Serious Threat in Asia

"The Threat of China" was discussed by Dr. Lee Farnsworth in the closing session of the Vietnam Conference last Friday. Dr. Farnsworth is associate professor of political science at BYU.

During his recent tour of the Orient, Dr. Farnsworth asked Asians from all walks of life about the Vietnam war. In spite of their close proximity to Red China, most Asians, according to Dr. Farnsworth, view America and not Red China as the real trouble maker.

REAL DANGER

A Japanese journalist told Dr. Farnsworth that the presence of American forces in Japan and the Seventh Fleet patrolling the straits between Formosa and Japan constituted the real danger to Japan. The journalist added, "If America were not there, China would have no reason for retaliation."

"I would suggest we replace Ho's (Ho Chi Minh) war of liberation with a genuine war of human rights in Vietnam," he said.

Russell Horvath, BYU associate professor of geography, was concerned about the way we are fighting the war in Vietnam.

FIGHTING TO WIN?

He asked, "Are we fighting to win? Then why don't we blockade Hai Phong Harbor?" He continued by saying, "If we don't have a militarily secure area, the Viet Cong can come and destroy everything."

Frederick Carleton Ashley, staff assistant to the deputy assistant for Far Eastern and Pacific Affairs, was the special guest at the lecture series.

Mr. Ashley believes it is necessary to build Vietnam up at the grass root level. He says the Viet Cong often find their support in the villages and hamlets in South Vietnam.

News Show Examines Democrats, Republicans . . .

Presidential Possibilities Probed

"Who In '68?" an ABC News color special focusing on the maneuvering now going on among potential Republican Presidential candidates and an examination of the divisions within the Democratic Party, will be presented on ABC-TV Thursday, Aug. 7, 10-11 p.m. EDT.

The program, part of ABC News' weekly "Summit Focus" series hosted by Peter Jennings, will be reported and narrated by ABC News Roving Political Editor William H. Lawrence.

Among those appearing on this examination of the American political scene is former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. In an exclusive interview with W. Lawrence at Gen. Eisenhower's Gettysburg, Pa., office, the former President reveals for the first time in detail the political position he expects to assume in 1968.

Other prominent Republicans on the program are former Vice President Richard Nixon (the first television interview he has granted in which he talks about his role in '68), Governor George Romney of Michigan, Governor Ronald Reagan of California, Senator Charles McNamara of Illinois, and Barry Goldwater, the 1964 GOP Presidential nominee.

New York Governor Nelson Rockefeller declined several invitations to appear on the ABC News special. He has turned down similar requests from all three networks, maintaining that he stands firmly behind Governor Romney and any interview might be a misinterpretation of his intentions.

COVERS WIDE AREA

Over the past several months, producer-writer Paul Altmeyer and Mr. Lawrence have taken ABC News camera crews from Alaska to New Orleans, from Southern California to New Hampshire, covering the potential candidates and talking to probable '68 opponents and top behind-the-scenes men in the GOP.

They have followed this delicate groundwork now being laid for potential candidates in such unlikely and out-of-the-way places as Eau Claire, Wisconsin, and Peterborough, New Hampshire.

EXPLORES STRATEGIES

Exploring the public and private strategies of the leading 1968 GOP hopefuls, "Who In '68?" focuses on such important behind-the-scenes strategists as Clifford P. Witte, a principal architect of Barry Goldwater's 1964 convention triumph; Leonard W. Hall, campaign manager for Governor Romney; Dr. Gaylord Parkinson, Nixon campaign manager; David Goldberg, who engineered Henry Cabot Lodge's upset victory in New Hampshire in 1964 and who is now attempting to do the same for Gov. Romney in 1968; and Bill Roberts, a Los Angeles political public relations consultant who guided Ronald Reagan's successful campaign for the California governor's office in 1966 and who talks candidly of Reagan as a '68 presidential candidate in '68.

"The story of the Democratic Party is," as the ABC News special points out, "the story of one man—Lyndon Baines Johnson. He fiddles the tune and the supporting cast of Democrats dances to what ever tune he plays—despite some mumblings and protests."

PARTY DIVISIONS

But there are deep divisions within the Party and they are brought out clearly in the Vietnam controversy through statements from President Johnson and Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon. Besides Sen. Morse, other Democrats on the ABC News program are Theodore C. Sorenson, the late President Kennedy's closest political advisor, and Bill D. Moyers, former top White House aide to President Johnson.

"Who In '68?" also examines former Alabama Governor George C. Wallace and the effects he would have on Republicans and Democrats as a third party presidential candidate in 1968.

Faith And Intellect Are Compatible, Says Speaker

"A life of faith does not discourage the use of intellect," declared Elder Marion D. Hanks yesterday morning during the devotional assembly. Elder Hanks encouraged his large audience to be "interested and curious—to learn about the world around you."

MEET ADVERTISERS

After apologizing for not apologizing for his casual dress, Elder Hanks explained that he was in the midst of vacationing in Aspen, Colorado, and had met several advertisers in traveling to Provo to deliver his message. He said he felt that the Lord expects each of us to be able to work with the most knowledgeable of our fellowmen, and to be able to hold our own in the intellectual aspect of living.

"But," he cautioned, "we must first gain a sense of self-esteem."

Ice Age Possible, Declares Authority

Air pollution is changing the weather and could bring on another ice age if atmospheric conditions are right, according to Dr. James P. Lodge, a chemist at the National Center for Atmospheric Research in Boulder, Colo.

NO SUMMER

More likely, according to Dr. Lodge, we will just have "a substantial number of years without any summer" in cities across the northern United States.

"But, we really don't know enough about the dynamics of the atmosphere to be certain," he added, "I think it's safe to say that whatever may come, it's going to be distinctly less comfortable."

CHAIRMAN

Dr. Lodge was chairman of a session at a meeting in Cleveland, Ohio of the Air Pollution Association.

An ominous sign, he pointed out, is that "the glaciers of the Pacific Northwest have stopped shrinking. They have shown no measurable net change in three or four years."

He advised that in order to fully realize and fulfill our responsibilities to our neighbors, friends and families, we must first have a respect for ourselves.

HELD ACCOUNTABLE

Elder Hanks continued with the thought, "There comes a time when we must stand up for what we believe in—and act accordingly." And, that this thought is "a cause and reason for our obedience to the principles of the gospel as we grow older."

In conclusion, Elder Hanks listed "four things a man must do, to keep his record straight and true": "Think without confusion clearly. Love his fellowmen sincerely. Act with honest motives purely. To trust in God in heaven securely."

McKay Bldg. To Be Cool Soon

A contract for the installation of refrigerated air-conditioning in the David O. McKay Building has been announced as being let to a local mechanical contractor.

Physical plant personnel have said that construction schedules are planned to minimize interference with classes and teachers by keeping the McKay Building's normal functions in mind, and language Department officials have announced the retooling of classes and labs from the third floor.

All third-floor McKay rooms and labs except two have been vacated. Those two are rooms 330 for the Germanic-Slavic, and Classical-Asiatic Language Departments, and 333 for Spanish-Portuguese, and French-Italian Language Departments. Construction schedules may be arranged during the installation period in these two departments.

Second session classes have been rescheduled in the Smith Family Living Center, the Harris Fine Arts Center, and on other floors in the McKay Building.

From The Front . . .

Ambush Patrol Gets Ambushed Itself In Viet Confrontation

By Pfc. F. Gary Jacobson

"I was hit as soon as the fighting started when the Viet triggered an ambush," exclaimed Specialist 4th Class Day Riddle, a member of the 25th division, recuperating from his wounds at the 106th General Hospital in Yokohama, Japan.

Riddle was serving during operation Manhattan near Cu Chi, 55 miles northeast of Saigon when a squad-size ambush patrol of 12 men ran into a V.C. ambush as they returned from their own ambush site to the company perimeter 550 meters away.

"A Chinese claymore almost cut the point man in half and killed him immediately," stated Riddle. "I was the second man and was hit in 14 places by the claymore. Three men were killed and four wounded in the confrontation with the Viet Cong."

"The mine scared me terribly, but I felt little pain at the time," explained Riddle. "There was an explosion and a lot of automatic rifle fire. I clambered behind the cover of a large ant hill where one ear drum was burst completely out and a hole put in the other by an M-79 grenade launcher round or fragmentary grenade."

Physical therapists are having Riddle lift weights to restore the strength of his arms when "the shrapnel mangled the nerves all up." Riddle, wounded April 28, started out with 3 pounds and now lifts 5 pounds, though it causes him a great deal of pain in the arms afterwards.

The 25th Division company was in the eighth day of operation during a search-and-destroy mission to clear the V.C. out of the jungle terrain of the Bo Loi woods.

"The company, dug in 350 meters away, quickly provided reinforcements, but I doubt that we killed any V.C. We spotted some blood, but if any V.C. were killed they were dragged away. We had not seen any V.C. on the operation up until the time of ambush," he said.

Riddle, from Brownville, Mississippi, had been in Vietnam two months when his squad was hit by the Viet Cong ambush and was treated first at the 12th Evacuation Hospital in Cu Chi.

Riddle received a purple heart for his wounds and the valiant fight that put him in the hospital. He is only one of many Vietnam veterans in the hospital. Some can recount the circumstances surrounding their own individual purple hearts, and some will never be able to recount any circumstances ever again.

Riddle smiled conclusively, saying "I don't want it to happen again, that's for sure."

Matinee Dance Set Thursday

Admission is free to a matinee dance Thursday from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. in the east end of the Games Area of the Wilkinson Center, according to Mario L. Taracena, publicity director of the social office.

A KOVO disc jockey will emcee. Refreshments will be served. Dress is casual school attire.

Summer Rates

A new family rate for the Varsity Theater for the summer period will begin immediately and continue through Sept. 7. The family rate will be 50¢ per family and will apply Monday through Thursday only of each week.

Wibley Reviews Book . . .

Spalding's Attack of Prophet Challenged

A Note: Bishop Spalding, a non-writer, sought to discredit the Pearl of Great Price by directing the work of Joseph Smith to be written by a "translator" named Joseph Smith.

Who would anyone want to be the truth? This was the recurrence of Bishop Spalding's "Joseph Smith as the Trans-First published in 1912.

High Nibley, renowned Latter-day Saint authority on Old and Testament languages, relabeled Bishop Spalding's work. Spalding began his criticism of Joseph Smith by referring to the Prophet's "spurious" translation of the ancient Egyptian symbol of "The Pearl of Great Price." According to Bishop Spalding, the symbol could not possibly be as much as Joseph Smith replies, "How does Spalding know? Has he heard of synthetic language?"

Nibley proceeded to list a number of Arabic words each of which required many words to be a satisfactory translation.

"The Book of Mormon" is the next to the "Bible" the most important book in the world," Bishop Spalding. However, according to Bishop Spalding, it is not possible to accurately translate "The Book of Mormon," it is possible to evaluate the translator himself through the Pearl of Great Price.

To accomplish this, Bishop Spalding distributed copies of "The Pearl of Great Price" to eight supposed translators and told them to say what had been correctly translated.

Nibley says the replies were identical. Three of the judges of Bishop Spalding's subordinates. They knew that if they were with the Prophet's translation they would be out of a job. None of these three were Egyptologists, according to Dr. Nibley.

A far better test, according to Dr. Nibley, would have been for each of the judges to have given their own translation of "The Pearl of Great Price" instead of merely saying whether it was right or wrong.

Four points were advanced by Bishop Spalding to prove Joseph Smith's fantastical quackery. "If Joseph Smith were off in 'The Pearl of Great Price' then 'The Book of Mormon' is a fraud also.

Dr. Nibley answers by saying, "Parts of the 'Bible' are incorrect so does that mean we should forget it?"

Bishop Spalding provided an adequate proving ground for Joseph Smith's ineptitude as a translator.

"But the critics didn't translate any symbols themselves," adds Dr. Nibley.

Bishop Spalding swore he had submitted the original text of "The Pearl of Great Price" to his judges.

Dr. Nibley says this is a lie because cause the original text has been missing for many years.

Finally, Joseph Smith is wrong because experts have given the last authoritative answer.

The fallacy here, according to Dr. Nibley, is that Bishop Spalding assumes that the latest word is always the last word.

We can gain a better appreciation of Bishop Spalding and his work by this quote, "I am friendly to the Mormons in order destroy them more rapidly."
